Promoter Says Estes Hit Tills

WASHINGTON (AP)—Billie Sol Estes raided the tills of his companies for $195,000 in cash and checks at the time the law was closing in on him, says the Texas promoter's former general manager.

A. B. Foster, who managed Estes far-flung enterprises, told the Senate Investigations subcommittee Friday that Estes dipped into the companies' treasuries for that amount between March 14 and April 6.

Just Before Arrest
These were the days just before and after Estes' arrest on federal charges of fraud—when his shaky business empire was collapsing.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., recessed on Friday the long hearings on Estes' operations under government farm programs and on treatment from government officials. When the hearings resume may depend on Estes' trial.

Committee investigators said the bankrupt promoter may be called to testify in about two weeks if he wins a long postponement of his trial on fraud charges in Tyler, Tex.

He is among a half-dozen witnesses still scheduled to be heard.

McClellan said that a date for resumption of the hearings would be set after the court has ruled on Estes' motion for postponement of the Sept. 24 trial date.

Heard From Hales
The subcommittee briefly heard again Friday from N. Battle Hales an Agriculture Department employee who has alleged during several days of testimony that Estes received favored treatment from the department.

Hales has particularly criticized his superiors' handling of Estes' deals to get more government acre allotments in order to grow more cotton under price supports.

Foster, who then took the witness chair, told of Estes' plucking $195,000 from half a dozen of his companies.

Foster said he assumed that $17,600 of it represented contents of two brown paper envelopes he said he retrieved from a safe deposit box on instructions from Estes only a few hours before Estes' arrest March 29.

John Dennison, an Estes' lawyer, has testified his client had no inkling that his arrest was imminent.

New Element Of Fraud

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., declared Friday that the subcommittee's investigators had uncovered a new element of fraud in Estes' cotton allotment deals.

He referred to documents placed in evidence by the subcommittee's counsel, Donald F. O'Donnell. Mundt said the documents established that Estes had sold to farmers heavily mortgaged land which he didn't personally own.

Estes got extra cotton allotments by selling land to farmers who had allotments. They then leased the land—with the allotments—back to Estes.

Execution Date Set For Alliance Man

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Jan. 4 was set Friday as the execution date for Kenneth M. Strong, 38, an Alliance tavern operator who was convicted last month of shooting his wife, Iris, to death last March 2.

At the trial before Judge John Rossetti, who set the time for electrocution at Ohio Penitentiary, it was testified Strong killed his wife because she threatened to expose his connection with crimes.

Admitted as evidence for the Stark County Common Pleas jury of seven men and five women was a signed statement in which Strong admitted killing James Crawford, an antique dealer, in a robbery during August 1961 at Crawford's home west of here.

Mississippi Racial Showdown Looms

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The State of Mississippi and the United States just approached a showdown today over whether the University of Mississippi will be desegregated.

Health Group Studies Sabin Vaccine Use

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government advisory committee is expected to recommend today whether Sabin oral polio vaccine should still be used in mass immunization programs.

The advisory group was scheduled to meet here this morning. The Public Health Service said Surgeon General Luther L. Terry would issue a statement this afternoon, after the closed meeting.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Sept. 27, was moved up hurriedly after Canadian officials reported four cases of paralytic polio among the four million persons who received the Sabin live virus vaccine. The Canadian Federal Health Department recommended against further use of the vaccine ending a study.

Meanwhile, some U. S. communities were going ahead with their immunization programs. Others were calling a temporary halt.

The developer of the vaccine, Dr. Albert B. Sabin, said the Canadian government was ill advised to discontinue the vaccine.

"What should be done is to intensify its use," he commented. The Cincinnati University researcher made the comments aboard the liner Queen Mary in a radio-telephone interview with The Associated Press.

"What may have happened in Canada is no different from what has happened in the United States and other countries ... during the outbreaks of the disease," said Sabin. "What happens is that people already infected are given the vaccine and this then affords no protection."

"The oral polio vaccine has been given safely to over 200 million people without a single case of polio being attributable to the vaccine," he said in another radio-telephone talk with the San Francisco K.O. Polio Program Committee. "But no vaccine can prevent polio in those already infected with the disease."

"Such stories as we are now hearing from Canada have previously checked out false," he added.

He said delays in immunization "leave us wide open to outbreaks of polio which could reach epidemic proportions."

Dr. Terry said Friday that pending a recommendation from the advisory committee he believed immunization programs with the Sabin vaccine should continue.

Crisis Over Berlin Held Worsening

WASHINGTON (AP)—High administration sources say Soviet threats to Berlin are greater now than in many years, and that it was chiefly this situation—not Cuba—that triggered President Kennedy's request for standby authority to call up 150,000 Reservists.

While the current military buildup in Cuba was a factor in Kennedy's decision, these sources said, the Berlin situation is considered infinitely more dangerous because the Soviets seek there to weaken the North Atlantic alliance.

Worse Than Last Year

The Berlin crisis was described by these top government spokesmen as worse than last year, when 148,000 U.S. military reservists were called up to help meet Communist threats in Berlin and elsewhere.

President Kennedy's current request for authority to mobilize the Reserves is designed as insurance against the worldwide menace of communism, of which Cuba is only a minor factor, they said.

If Congress approves Kennedy's request, it would not mean that reservists will automatically be called to active duty, but it will give the President authority to call them whenever he feels world events warrant it.

The officials indicated any call-up of reservists this winter would likely involve Air Force tactical units, and probably Navy destroyer crewmen, rather than any large units of the Army Reserve or National Guard.

Cuba Less Of Worry

In playing down the current threat of Premier Fidel Castro's regime, the high government sources said Cuba is regarded as less of a worry to the Western Hemisphere than a year ago.

The recent shipments of Communist bloc arms and technicians to the island country 90 miles from Florida have beefed up Castro's forces, but not very much, they said.

The Reserve call-up bill is scheduled for action on the House floor Sept. 24. It won unanimous approval Friday from the House Armed Services Committee.

Miller May Get Juvenile Officer Post

LISBON — Chief Deputy Sheriff James Miller of Salineville today submitted his resignation to Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan. It is effective Sunday.

Speculation is that Miller will begin work Monday as Columbiana County juvenile probation officer, succeeding the late Chris Pusey of Lisbon.

Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin said he will not name the new probation officer until Monday.

Miller was one of several applicants for the post. He has been chief deputy sheriff since January, 1957, and formerly was a deputy for the late Sheriff Howard J. Clark. Prior to that he was Salineville marshal and a case worker for the County Welfare Department.

Alliance Family Takes Part In Mock Battle

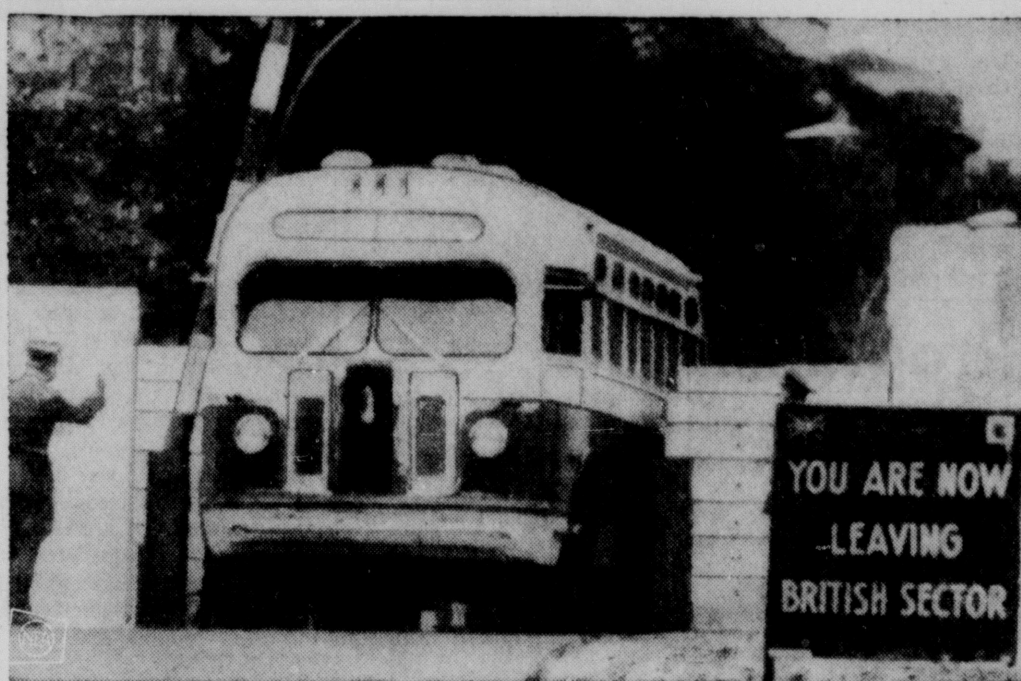

SHARPSBURG, Md. (AP)—The Hamlin family of Alliance, Ohio, and 1,800 other Civil War enthusiasts re-enact the Battle of Antietam today in the rolling farmland of western Maryland.

At the site where 22,700 Union and Confederate soldiers died or were wounded 100 years ago, their descendants will relive the clash of arms which proved to be the war's bloodiest day.

All four members of the Hamlin family have a part in the re-enactment of that portion of the battle which culminated in the fighting at Bloody Lane. Father, mother, son and daughter are members of the Ohio 19th Light Artillery.

Lt. Col. Tom W. Hamlin, 41, a furniture dealer, has been interested in the Civil War since he was a boy. He portrays a general in the first Union assault wave on the lane.

10,000 Greet Ike In Scranton

Ex-President Rips U.S. Power Trend

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, after campaigning in the heavily Republican Midwest, gave a boost Friday night to the GOP in Pennsylvania, where the Democrats have held the governor's office for eight years.

Obviously buoyed by his reception at rallies for congressional candidates in Indiana and Illinois, Eisenhower was greeted by a cheering crowd of 10,000 in this city where Democrats outnumber Republicans two to one.

It's the home town of the GOP candidate for governor, William W. Scranton, 45-year-old congressman from whose family the city took its name.

In a statewide telecast, Eisenhower said, "I come to endorse a highly qualified man for the post of governor of our state."

Eisenhower has adopted Pennsylvania as his home state. After the rally he flew to his farm near Gettysburg.

Eisenhower's prepared text made no mention of U.S. Rep. James Van Zandt, R-Pa., who is seeking to win Sen. Joseph S. Clark's seat. However, during delivery Eisenhower mentioned him three times.

Eisenhower reviewed Scranton's war record and his part in efforts to revitalize Scranton's economy. "Unhappily," he said, "these days more and more decisions are made by the bureaucrat and fewer and fewer by the people."

Unless we do something to change the trend toward Washington's concentration of power over local matters, we shall lose the self-reliance and self-determination which revitalized this city."

Earlier in his tour, he urged

Next Time You Err, A Ticket You'll Share

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) A motorist's parking meter poetry has resulted in a terse little verse from the meter nurse.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsey found a meter in a municipal parking lot which did not register time when a coin was inserted. They wrote a short poem and left it on the meter. It read:

"It took my dime,
But gave no time;
Tho' you may leer,
I'm parking here."

When the Lindsey's returned later, they found a white slip of paper fluttering on the windshield. Though they feared a ticket, it was only a reply signed by the "meter maid."

"I noted the note, the one that you wrote.
But tragedy shall befall the Muse
Tho' clever you are, enough so you're not:
You put your dime in the nickel slot"

U.S. To Name Nine More Astronauts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nine new astronauts will be named Monday to help the present seven put an American on the moon before the Russians get there.

This was announced Friday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as efforts were being made to minimize any differences of opinion between astronauts John Glenn and Walter Schirra.

Schirra said in a television interview Thursday night that outside commitments were causing Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, to fall behind in space work.

Schirra is scheduled to make a six-orbit flight Sept. 28.

Glenn and Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, director of the Manned Spacecraft Center here, both denied the accusation in prepared statements.

Glenn said: "I don't want to add any more statements to a situation that has all he aspects of a tempest in a teapot."

"Scheduling of my time for maximum benefit from a technical and national space program standpoint, has been continually reviewed by both Dr. Gilruth and the management at NASA headquarters."

"Wally (Schirra) and I are good friends and I will certainly continue to support his flight just as well as I possibly can. We are all working together and looking forward to a very successful MA-8."

Schirra's flight will be the Mercury-Atlas 8.

Gilruth's statement was substantially the same, except he answered another remark about NASA itself. Schirra had said Mercury Control Center knew the whereabouts of Malcolm Scott Carpenter during the 35 minutes

Brazil Political Crisis Eased

January Plebiscite Okayed by Chamber

BRASILIA (AP) — The Chamber of Deputies eased Brazil's political crisis today by okaying a plebiscite for next January on whether to give executive powers to the figurehead office of President Joao Goulart.

The vote on the plebiscite bill already approved by the Senate, was 169-83—five over the majority required.

The plebiscite is set for Jan. 6. The action apparently lessened the threat of military intervention in Latin America's largest nation, which has been without a government since Prime Minister Francisco Brochado da Rocha and his cabinet resigned Friday over the plebiscite issue.

The nation was still confronted by a general strike, but Goulart was reported ready to fly to Rio de Janeiro to try to persuade labor leaders to call it off.

Leaders of the strike—involving 2,000 unions claiming 12 million workers—have insisted that the plebiscite be held Oct. 7, same date as the congressional elections.

Brochado da Rocha's failure to win approval of this date led to his resignation Friday after two months in office.

Congress' action nevertheless was a victory for Goulart, who took over as a figurehead president a year ago after Janio Quadros resigned. Military leaders then feared Goulart was too leftist and backed action to put Brazil under a parliamentary system of government.

Since then Goulart has won over many moderates and has replaced opposition military leaders with his own men.

In recent months Goulart has been carrying on a running battle with the conservative-dominated Congress. He has demanded executive powers, complaining that he lacks authority to meet social and economic problems.

Gen. Artur Costa Silva, commander of the 4th Army in Brazil's poverty-stricken northeast area, put his troops on alert Friday because of the strike. The 2nd Army in Sao Paulo was ordered to stand by for an alert.

LEAVE BONDS IN LISBON

LISBON — Leroy McIntosh, 19, of 533 E. Washington St., and John E. Adams, 18, Lisbon RD 1, forfeited $25 appearance bonds to Patrolman Kenneth McKenzie after he arrested them at 2:40 a.m. today for reckless operation.

The cars separated as the policeman pursued them through town, but Deputy Sheriff Herman (Cy) Wellman took after one while McKenzie got the other when it hit a curb and blew out a tire.

Elbert Allison, 24, Hookstown, Pa., and Hayhurst Williams of Massillon forfeited $10 appearance bonds for failure to stop for the red flasher light on the square.

U.N. Bond Bill Gets Senate Endorsement

Tariff, Reserves Proposals Receive Committee Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, scenting adjournment this month, is picking up steam in its drive to get home for the fall election campaigns.

It shoved further along Friday three of President Kennedy's top proposals—the U.N. bond issue, trade expansion and standby authority to call up Reserves. Another administration bill, calling for federal aid to traffic-clogged cities, apparently fell by the wayside.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana dangled the carrot of a Sept. 29 adjournment before the Senate, but noted it is up to the members to get the job done.

Clears Major Hurdle

No adjournment date was mentioned in the House, but that body cleared a major hurdle with passage of the U.N. bond issue bill on a 256-134 roll call vote. There was a possibility the Senate might agree to House amendments, meaning it could be sent to Kennedy next week.

The Senate Finance Committee approved the President's proposal for authority to slash and in some cases wipe out tariffs reciprocally with other nations, particularly the booming European Common Market. Debate on the bill, already passed by the House, begins in the Senate on Monday.

The House Armed Services Committee gave unanimous approval to the President's request for standby authority call up 150,000 Reserves.

However, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said the Reserves call-up bill won't reach the House floor until Sept. 24, a week later than expected.

Lausche Motion Approved

In what he acknowledged was a move to kill the President's proposal for $500 million in federal grants to help cities solve mass transit problems, Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, won approval of his motion to send the transportation bill to the Commerce Committee. By agreement the measure must come out Sept. 24, but there seems little chance it will be debated in the late rush for adjournment.

The U.N. bond bill was approved by 190 Democrats and 66 Republicans. Opposing it on the final roll call were 46 Democrats and 88 Republicans.

The major fight came over an amendment by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., which would have held up the loan until the United Nations adopted an advisory opinion of the World Court that special U.N. assessments are bind on all members. Supporters of the bill managed to beat down the Byrnes amendment, pointing out that the United Nations has adopted nine previous World Court opinions.

Shaw Re-Elected Chairman by ASC

Clifford Shaw of Lisbon was re-elected chairman of Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Friday for a fourth consecutive term.

All 11 community committees sent delegates to the annual ASC convention at Lisbon Village Hall. Also re-elected were Galen Bowman of Lisbon, vice chairman, and Glenn Bates of Salem, member. J. Wilson Yaggi of Alliance RD was elected first alternate, and John Raley of Rogers, second alternate.

The first business meeting of the new year will be Oct. 3 in the ASC office in Farmers National Bank Building at Lisbon.

To Speak At Two Churches

Dr. Charles DeVol

Mrs. Charles DeVol

Dr. and Mrs. Charles DeVol, missionaries on furlough from Taiwan (Formosa), will speak in both Salem First Friends Church and the Winona Friends Church this Sunday.

Dr. DeVol has taught botany in the University of Taipei for five years, while at the same time superintending the work of the Taiwan Friends Mission. Although only about 10 years old, the mission work has grown to 17 preaching points.

Dr. Charles DeVol was born in China, the son of medical missionary parents. His brother, Dr. W. Ezra DeVol, is superintendent of the Ohio Yearly Meeting Friends Mission work in Central India. His sister, Mrs. Everett Cattell, along with her husband, also served several terms in India. Charles and Leora DeVol, their parents, worked for the mission in China until that country was closed to missionary work.

Speaking fluent Mandarin Chinese, Dr. DeVol has on numerous occasions preached in President Chiang's church on Formosa.

In the 11 a.m. worship service at Winona, Dr. DeVol will be speaking, while Mrs. DeVol will speak and show slides at the 8 p.m. service. At the 7:30 hour service at the Salem First Friends, Dr. DeVol will speak and show slides of the Formosan missionary work.

Rev. Coleman New Assistant At St. Paul's

Rev. Kevin Coleman has assumed his duties as assistant pastor of St. Paul's parish, replacing Rev. William Witt, who has been transferred to the Immaculate Heart of Mary parish at Youngstown.

A native of Cleveland where he attended grade school, Rev. Coleman is a graduate of Canton Catholic High School, and no stranger to Salem, having participated in football games between the two high schools. He is a graduate of John Carroll University, Cleveland, St. Gregory Seminary at Cincinnati, and Mount St. Mary's of the West at Cincinnati.

Rev. Coleman comes to Salem from St. Joseph parish at Mantua which he served for two and one-half years. He also served the parish of St. Nicholas Church at Struthers.

Rev. J. Richard Gaffney is pastor of St. Paul's Catholic Church.

Only natural disaster to take five or more lives in the United States during 1958 was the group of tornadoes that struck northwestern Wisconsin early in June, claiming 30 lives.

The group discussed plans for the achievement program to be held at Butler Grange hall in October.

Bicycle Tag Sale Here Shows Decline

A total of 768 bicycle permits have been issued since June of this year, according to City Clerk Robert W. Rheutan.

The 50-cent tags are still on sale at the safety department office at City Hall.

All bicycles in the city are required to have the permit, according to legislation passed by Council in 1950.

This 768 total is down from the 1,150 figure for a similar one-year period, Rheutan said.

WANTS STREAMLINING

CINCINNATI (AP) — John D. Herbert, seeking the Ohio State treasurer's job, says he thinks streamlining the department would save money.

In a campaign talk Thursday before the Cincinnati Young Republican Club, Herbert said programming of money use, short-term investments and improved relations with financial institutions would help.

Do you remember the first time you listened to a sea shell? And when you watched a sunflower turn toward the sun? And when you tried to guess where the pot of gold was at the end of the rainbow? Life is full of sweet mysteries for the young. Do you remember?

In fact, life reveals even more sweet mysteries as we grow older. When we think of these things, the mysteries of life, of God's care of us, of the wonders of the universe—you know, that's a way of praying! Yes, just thinking about God.

Fortunately, too, we have the Church—your church—a place to contemplate such things, to pray, to ask questions, and give thanks to Almighty God. Go to the church of your choice this Sunday. There you will find some of the answers ... to some of these wondrous mysteries.

Greatest of Holidays

It is heartening to see Constitution Day catching on as a fixed event of Sept. 17 each year. Why Sept. 17?

The Constitutional Convention had met in May 1787. George Washington was its president. By September it had hammered out a proposal for a constitution. On Sept. 17 enough delegates signed — 39 out of 65 qualified to attend the convention—and the document was sent to Congress for submission to the states. The Constitution was declared in effect the first Wednesday in March 1789.

It was believed then to be one of the great documents of mankind and has been confirmed in that high status by almost a century and three-quarters of experience. But there probably isn't more than one American in a hundred who has read it and not more than one in a thousand who has comprehended its significance.

THE SIGNIFICANCE lies in the way the Constitution spells out what government can do and cannot do and says that all powers not spelled out are beyond all government authority. To this day this is the most difficult thing for many U.S. citizens to understand about the government of limited power they live under. They tirelessly try to give away their freedom from political manhandling.

It is as though the people themselves were intent on undermining their liberty by widening the scope of potential political abuse—always, of course, at the expense of someone besides themselves.

The Founding Fathers intended to tie the hands of government. They had a bellyful of government abuse under the despotic rule of King George III. The great merit of their work in the Constitutional Convention was that they got rid of despotism with a flourish of freedom.

THE GREAT shame of their posterity is that they are informed so badly about what was done in their behalf in 1787 they can be hornsogged into supporting schemes to undo it—not because they actually want to destroy freedom but because they do not understand that their written Constitution is all that keeps freedom safe.

A frightening example of the consequences of popular ignorance was the hue and cry to get rid of the Fifth Amendment when goons evading justice were abusing one section of it, a section of a mere 14 words in a 108-word section that pins down many of the people's most cherished liberties.

Constitution Day is a wonderful idea. If it ultimately caused as few as half the people of the United States to find out how their liberty was guaranteed it could become the greatest of national holidays.

'Battle of the Bugs'

Man, in his fight to destroy plant and insect pests, is in danger of destroying himself instead.

The possibility is being studied today by scientists and government officials.

Before World War II, chemicals played a relatively minor role in man's battle against bugs and weeds. Then came DDT, credited with saving 5 million lives during the war by controlling insect-borne diseases.

After the war, laboratories began turning out an arsenal of chemical pesticides. They became a major U.S. industry with annual sales of upward of $300 million.

Last year alone, it is estimated one billion pounds of chemical poisons were sprayed over America's farms, gardens and forests.

While the effectiveness of the poison in controlling the pests is undeniable, biologists and other scientists look upon them as a menace to wild life, the balance of nature and to man himself.

They contend, supported by the Audubon Society and the Wildlife Federation of America, that man is polluting his streams, food supply and the air he breathes with poisons which, absorbed in minute quantities over a lifetime, may have incalculably harmful effects on his health and his progeny.

These groups argue that far better results can be obtained through "biological controls," the use of nature's own weapons, as in the introduction of a natural predator to check an insect invasion.

It is plausible that chemicals poisonous enough to destroy lower forms of life could impair the health of man. However the National Agricultural Chemical Association, speaking for the pesticides industry, has denounced the theory as one-sided, unfair and "strongly" flavored with sensationalism.

From here, it appears "The Battle of the Bugs" is just beginning.

Savings Bonds For Tax Refunds

Next year taxpayers getting refunds on federal income tax overpayments will have a choice between cash and Savings Bonds.

The U.S. Treasury says the Savings Bond idea has been considered a long time; it was first proposed by a taxpayer seven years ago. Until electronic processing came into use, however, too much paper work would have been involved.

Most attractive feature of the refund in Savings Bonds is the possibility of paying future taxes with the cash-in value of the bonds—up to $25 in future tax obligations with bonds that cost $18.75.

Over a long period of years, a program of taking annual overpayments in bonds instead of cash could pay off. A taxpayer in effect, would be earning money on his own debt.

We weren't the taxpayer who made the Savings Bond proposal the first time seven years ago, but in these columns a similar proposal was made less than a year ago in connection with a Savings Bond campaign.

It was to the effect that a prudent taxpayer might pay his taxes at a discount by investing systematically in Savings Bonds, holding them to maturity and turning them in year by year as the bonds matured to offset an ever-increasing part of his tax obligation. It would be an anticipatory withholding tax, but with the individual doing the withholding and getting credit for the accrued interest.

Perhaps there will be enough electronic gear in Washington one day to give individual taxpayers the interest on all their money someone else uses during the time they lose the use of it through the withholding tax apparatus. That would be better than getting Savings Bonds for refunds.

'Signal 30'

Even the most hardened have been moved by the State Highway Patrol-produced movie, "Signal 30," which describes vividly—in sound and color—the agonizing and frequent tragic result of traffic accidents.

Eastern County Court Judge Herbert Arfman's decision to give traffic offenders an opportunity to witness the film on a once-a-month showing in lieu of a heavy fine ought to have a sobering effect on the reckless driver. Nine hundred drivers have appeared in Eastern County court already this year in answer to Patrol citations, with many other district courts having dockets crowded with highway violation cases.

"Mechanized Death," a sequel to "Signal 30," also is now available for public viewing by any and all groups. Both films are highly recommended.

Purely Personal

Nothing tenderizes me faster than "The September Song" played in September. Yet, my favorite pianist, having been apprised of this, insists he played it all the way through without getting a rise out of me because at the time I was talking to this lady and she said I said—and how tender can you get?

It gives me a start to see a man wearing suspenders and to remember that at one time all my trousers were made to be suspended in this odd manner. The only time I wear suspenders now is when some special occasion calls for a black-tie getup.

The handiest thing in my new compact-compact is a shelf that runs from one side to the other under the dashboard for all the things people carry with them in autos and have no place to store.

This is the time of the year when I discover with surprise that baseball teams are still grinding out their interminable season in privacy.

I like the twister about the Russians orbiting the dairy cows—for the first herd shot 'round the world. It's pretty old but I still like it. Also "Three O'Clock in the Morning." I like that too.

The realistic lady I live with examined all the documents pertaining to my employer's latest additions to my fringe benefits and said, "If you don't get yourself incapacitated for the maximum allowable time, then cash in five minutes before midnight of the day you retire, you ain't trying."

Another reason I cannot feel too bad about the end of summer is because I am tired of reruns on television. I am ready for some new versions of the old malarkey.

By Truman Twill

Southerners took some of the shine off the Thurgood Marshall appointment to the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals by holding up action in Judiciary Committee, but in a few years all Southerners will be forgotten in obscurity and a Negro judge named Marshall will be remembered.

After my first encounter with long-distance movers I have a sadder but wiser feeling. It would have been easier to have what they used to call in the country "flittin'."

I continue to have fun with the idea that all decisions affecting masses of people are made by events and circumstances before the people become broadly aware of what's happening and that thereafter the screaming is pursuant to becoming adjusted to what can't be changed.

The interesting thing about people who want to decide what other people should look at and read and talk about is that if anyone ever tried to tell them what THEY should look at and read and talk about there would be the devil to pay.

I know a charming young woman who came home from Italy on the same plane with Mrs. John F. Kennedy and Caroline Kennedy—who was in the same row of seats, as a matter of fact—and confirms my idea about the first lady of the United States, the idea being that she is a charming, unaffected person who leads her own life and has fun doing it.

I have learned only recently that I was wrong when I said Cheviot sheep—the kind we have at the Twillery—bear lambs only in the spring. A neighbor has a Cheviot lamb born in September.

Direct Election Poor Way To Pick U.S. Senators

By DAVID LAWRENCE

It's an ill wind that blows no good, and maybe the nationwide attention which the oddities of the senatorial campaign in Massachusetts have attracted will cause the American people to begin thinking about some system other than direct election for choosing United States senators.

While Edward M. Kennedy, who is 30 years old, and Edward J.

McCormack Jr., who is 39 years old, are both promising young men, it seems strange that the citizens of Massachusetts who happen to belong to the Democratic party are not able to select for their nominee someone who has the maturity and experience and judgment needed for service in the United States Senate.

The idea that youth and ambition aren't necessarily the main qualifications for high office isn't, of course, original. Former President Truman raised his voice in vain in behalf of maturity and experience when he urged John F. Kennedy, in the summer of 1960, to step aside for a while and let an older man have the Democratic nomination for the presidency. Kennedy, at least, was 43 years old at the time.

THE AUTHORS of the Constitution felt that the United States Senate should have a high calibre of public servant, with two senators to represent each sovereign state. It was specified, therefore, that senators should be chosen by the majority vote of state legislatures.

For many decades in American history this system provided some of the ablest men in the country—men like Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, John C. Calhoun, Charles Sumner and Elihu Root. The state legislatures fell into disrepute because political bosses managed to manipulate the vote for their own purposes. So the Constitution was changed in 1913 to provide for the election of senators by popular vote.

Public opinion inevitably would have corrected the abuses that arose. Laws could have been enacted to prevent the buying of votes in state legislatures by means of patronage and other devices. For the system of selecting senators by vote of the state legislatures was not itself at fault.

Direct election today means a costly and difficult kind of campaign for a would-be candidate—usually a primary and a general election. Unless someone can gain popularity by athletic prominence or by crooning or by a family relationship to someone in the public eye, the chances of winning a nomination or an election are no very good nowadays.

SOME OF THE STATES have by law provided a state-convention system for nominating purposes, as against a primary-election system. But the fact remains that, when a candidate for the Senate has to go before all the voters of a state, he tends to move toward demagoguery and the kind of political maneuvering that will get votes for him from one populous section as against another with less voters.

The idea of deciding public questions on the basis of what is good for the state as a whole has been superseded by consideration of what is likely to prove popular in the cities versus the country districts or vice versa.

Whatever the faults of the system that enabled state legislatures to elect United States senators, they never were as damaging to the public interest as is the method of direct election. If the state legislatures were once more to have power to elect their senators, there would be many persons aspiring to the office who would never care to engage in the sort of political campaigning which now is in vogue.

An able lawyer, a devoted servant of the public in city or county or state affairs who has a good mind, but does not happen to possess a magnetic voice or television personality, is not likely to seek office by means of two statewide contests against opponents who might merely be better showmen or more clever debaters on television.

The Founding Fathers felt that senators should be elected by legislatures for six years so as to give them less cause for concern about the transient moods of the electorate.

Nowadays the necessities of a primary campaign and a final election contest induce many a senator to spend a good deal of time every year in his home state filling speaking engagements and putting in appearances at various functions. All this takes him away from important duties in Washington.

THE METHOD of electing senators by popular vote is, of course, the basic reason for the constant campaigning which so many senators are obliged to do, for back home there is always the threat of two or three potential opponents who have plenty of time to make the rounds and drum up political support for the next election.

Under the previous system, politics played a part, but members of a state legislature who picked a man not really qualified for the office were likely to find themselves in difficulties in their own election districts. Selecting a senator used to be a major responsibility of the party in power at the state house, and men of unquestionable ability generally were chosen.

At least in the old days they wouldn't have selected a youngster with a relative among the politically powerful—they would have picked a man who had already served in the state legislature or the House of Representatives and who had distinguished himself in the eyes of the citizens of the state. Massachusetts, too, once had great senators selected by that system.

History Today

Today is Saturday Sept. 15, the 258th day of 1962. There are 107 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1854, the state of Kansas' first English newspaper—the Kansas Weekly Herald—was published.

On this date—In 1775, Gov. Campbell dissolved the South Carolina Assembly and fled to a British sloop-of-war.

In 1812, the Russians burned Moscow following Napoleon's triumphal entry into the city.

In 1890, Louise Blanchard Methune became the first woman member of the American Institute of Architects.

In 1944, U.S. troops landed on Peleliu Island in the Pacific during World War II.

In 1958, 48 persons were killed and many injured when a Jersey Central Railroad train rammed through a raised bridge and two coaches plunged into Newark Bay in New Jersey.

Today's birthdays: Actor Jackie Cooper is 40 years old. Dr. Milton Eisenhower is 63.

Thought for today: A fool must now and then be right by chance—William Cowper.

Little League Protest

We are in favor of Little League Baseball which was started to keep boys busy, build character and teach sportsmanship. The rule book stresses all this, rather than winning.

For the All-Star game (H League), four boys were chosen from each team. One team, the coach chose four boys of his choice, three more boys were picked from this same team, by "others," against the coach's will.

Out of the four boys chosen by their coach, not one boy played over two innings if that. The other three played from three to five innings.

This not only hurt the boys from this team but the other boys who sat it out on other teams because of these extras. If this is sportsmanship and character-building, we're afraid we had the wrong idea.

Maybe We Deserve It

By BARNETT D. LASCHEVER

Some years ago we boarded a shining, new streamlined train in California, bound for the East Coast, and home. In the dining car, the waiter poked his finger in my wife's eye and demanded, "What's yours?" Not, "Can I help you, madam?" "Do you wish to place your order, madam?" not even "What's yours, madam?"

We looked at each other, burst out laughing and said simultaneously, "We're home!"

We had just arrived in California after an extended tour in Europe and the Far East where dining room service carries with it certain niceties, certain little acts of respect (none of them make mealtime a leisurely, relaxed, gracious interlude in the day's activities).

THE AMERICAN waiter, sadly, has no such appreciation for either himself, his job or the guest he serves.

It would appear that the American waiter, at best, is under a constant compulsion to prove he is as good as the person at the table before him. (We, the diners, already admit this—all we ask is courtesy and some attention to the details of serving that can make or ruin a meal.)

A worst, the American waiter despises his work, his guest and himself for being caught in what he regards as a demeaning occupation.

There are many examples of poor service in the United States. You don't expect Continental manners in a roadside diner. But when a highly-touted well-respected restaurant disappoints you—and serves poor food, to boot—it is time to cry out.

During the last weekend we had a horrendous experience in an Italian restaurant in Boston. What happened typifies the worst aspects of waiter service in the United States.

Item: The waiter came to take our order. One member of the party hesitated. The waiter turned, without a word of excuse, and left. He returned shortly with the bread, as it turned out, but there was no cause for his impoliteness.

Item: We told the waiter we wanted wine, instead of cocktails. He did not ask for the wine order, and we were halfway through the meal before we could attract his attention again and place it.

Item: The soup was almost dropped on the table so it sloped into the dish. Worst, it was cold. (And not very good, either.)

Item: Vinegar and oil bottles were brought to the table for the salad. The oil bottle was practically empty. The waiter had not thought to refill it.

Item: It was extremely difficult to attract the waiter's attention. He was of the classic mold hat either never looks at you, or through you.

Aide Follows In Hoffa's Footsteps

One of Jimmy Hoffa's most loyal lieutenants—Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano—is a dedicated chap. Some time ago he had

Victor Riesel

Did he go to the fine golf and social club available to him in nearby Englewood, N.J.?

No. Did he go driving in his fine new car, made available to him by his teamster union local? No. He was so devoted he went down to the office to work alone on some papers. So absorbed was he by this intellectual exercise that he did not notice on his way out that someone had left the elevator door open. So he fell down the shaft hurting himself badly. No one has yet solved the mystery of the open shaft door or who put the wayward elevator there.

But this column is dedicated to Mr. Provenzano's dedication. He feels that as president of a local (560, Union City) of some 13,000 New Jersey Teamsters he is worth far more than the $20,000 per annum (and expenses) he's now drawing. So he is asking for a raise of no less than $25,000 a year.

HE HAS ALREADY notified some of his members. This he did at an August meeting of Local 560 at the Jersey City Gardens, to which came some 300 of the union's 13,000 members. Some of those present objected. They were told they were out of order.

When Tony Pro finally gets his raise he'll be drawing at least $45,000 from his local union. But Mr. Pro is a bigger man than the 45 grand reveals.

With Jimmy Hoffa as his angel, Tony Pro has risen fast in the teamster high command. Meteoric, one might say in this space age. In all, he already draws a total of some $38,000 from his various teamster offices. This does not include allowances and expenses.

In fact, the raise would give him a basic income of $63,000 a year — or $1,211.54 a week. Not bad for a local boy, even for a friend and ally of Jimmy H.

LIKE OTHER of his colleagues in the hierarchy, Tony Pro draws several salaries. As president of the local he gets $20,000 a year. As president of the New Jersey Joint Council he draws $500 a month. Then, as 12th vice president of the Teamster Brotherhood, he is paid another $12,000 a year "as compensation for attending board meetings, and for representing the interests of the international union. . . ."

HONORED BY MARSHALS
IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — Two Lawrence County Probate Court officials have been honored here by the National Association of Deputy U.S. Marshals for their work with juveniles.

The association annually makes four awards. Two of the national citations were given Thursday night to Lawrence County Probate Court Judge Harold D. Spears and Juvenile officer Elmer Carico Jr.

latter including an interest in the film, "Marty," which shot Borgnine to fame and won him an Oscar in 1955.

Groucho Marx went to the Social Security Administration office in Santa Monica, Calif., and came away with $250. The quick-witted comedian said he applied for benefits to call attention to the provision which allows people past retirement age, who are still working, to collect compensation for any month in which they earn less than $100.

Dawn Addams, the British movie star, will oppose attempts to extradite her to Italy on charges of abducting her 7-year old son, Stefano and illegally taking him to London. Her husband of 10 years, Prince Vittorio Massimo, from whom she legally separated in 1958, had provisional custody of the boy. In Rome, a judge ordered her arrest and extradition. Miss Addams took Stefano for a holiday Aug. 10. Assimo said that violated an agreement that the boy not be taken out of Italy.

Lorraine Van Buren last saw her two sons in California in 1953 when, she said, her ex-husband asked to take the boys for a walk and disappeared with them. Remarried the same year, she and her new husband spent all their spare money since then in a search for the boys.

The nine-year search ended when a private detective tracked down the former husband, James Schultz, 50, in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Schultz, teaching school under an assumed name, was arrested on a child-stealing warrant.

Mrs. Van Buren journeyed from her San Pablo, Calif., home for a reunion in Fort Lauderdale with her oldest son, now 19. She missed his wedding by a week. The youngest son, age 12, will be reunited with his mother as soon as juvenile officials work out arrangements.

SUMMITVILLE — Mrs. Lewis McCullough was hostess Thursday evening when members of the Women's Civic Club held their first meeting of the season with 14 members and two guests present.

Projects for community betterment were discussed and two, better phone service and village street signs, were chosen for immediate action.

It was agreed to contact the General Telephone Company of Ohio and request more lines to the village, each line now existing is shared by six to 10 customers and service is often totally disrupted.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served ice cream sundaes and cookies, assisted by Mrs. Earl Rogers, Mrs. Robert Carter and Mrs. Claire Fraser. The buffet table was centered with a large silver "atom", theme of the newsletter sent by the president, Mrs. McCullough, to all members previous to the meeting, and favors were miniature "atoms."

A guest speaker will be heard at the next meeting Oct. 11 in the home of Mrs. F. H. Johnson.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

If you are a small family it makes no difference. Buy a one pound roast (of different sorts) and mix 'em instead of one big roast. Those who like lean beef can have it. Fat eaters can eat the other cuts.

But you and I both know that beef is better when cooked in a little fat!

By the way . . . these roasts can be seasoned with any condiment you might happen to favor, such as celery seed, Worcestershire sauce, catsup, chili sauce or even chili powder. I do suggest that you leave these out the first time and taste the real flavor of the different meats themselves.

You just might be amazed to learn what real meat tastes like!

Many restaurateurs write to me, "Heloise, when I see some people pouring catsup and sauces on my beautiful steaks . . . I die a slow death. These people don't know what the real flavor of a good steak is."

And say . . . that good gravy may be thickened or left as is.

DEAR HELOISE: To peel hardboiled eggs without tearing them . . . have them just warm — not too hot — and certainly not cold. If they have cooled completely put them in a bowl of warm water for a few minutes before starting to peel them.

I use sweet pickle relish for the chopped pickles which I put into potato and tuna fish salad. Why don't the pickle companies give us chopped dill pickles and chopped sour pickles for this purpose? I sure bet they would sell!

M. B. I bet they would too . . . but in the meantime, next time you buy a jar of sour pickles put them in your food chopper and chop your own. It's cheaper in the long run. For those of you who do not have these handy little food choppers, use your grater.

DEAR HEDOSE: If you have trouble getting corn to pop . . . place the bag or can of popcorn in the deepfreeze or freezing compartment of the refrigerator for at least 24 hours before you start to use it. I always keep it stored there.

The corn will pop up large and tender.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found that if I keep a clothespin pinned to my shower curtain, I can hang up my shower cap by the point of the head.

For years I put my shower cap on a hook on the wall only to find that it gathers moisture and mildew around the band. This method of using a clothespin to hang it, allows all the water and moisture to drip out.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Alliance

I'll put up with anything to keep the family together."

Mrs. Hamlin said school officials were good about excusing both Tom and Sally, a fifth grader.

"They all brought homework," she said. "But that's not saying when it'll get done."

Mrs. Hamlin said her husband decided three years ago to round up a few boys interested in the Civil War. Nine of them camped out on the weekends and every Thursday night played Civil War games at the Hamlin house.

"It snowballed from there," she said. "Our house is headquarters with 30 to 40 boys running in and out. Sometimes, I've been ready to throw in the sponge."

"They call me the General, I'm sort of mother to all of them. "The main idea of the whole thing was to teach the boys American history. It's really been interesting. I've never been a history student, but I learned more about American history by being with it."

"I'm kind of the ridicule of the neighborhood. We drill in the street every Thursday. Women in the neighborhood say, 'What are you doing out there?' But some of them don't know where their kids are, and I know where mine are."

At their campsite among the other Northern troops, the Confederate flag the Hamlins fly looks a little out of place.

"The Colonel's really a Southern sympathizer," his wife explained. "His family is from Virginia."

Then Tom spoke up: "He's liaison officer for the Confederacy high command. If things go wrong today, he can just change uniforms."

Coming Your Way

You're invited to take a "peek" at Salem's newest home store soon to be opened at the corner of Pershing and Lundy. As you pass by, just step in. Much of the rough construction work has been completed, but you can get a preview of what's in store for you.

On October 1st we at Strouss intend to open a completely new home store full of the latest appliances, television, stereo, along with most of the major lines in better furniture, and floor coverings.

You won't see any merchandise as yet, but you can't help but be amazed at the tremendous change at the corner of Pershing and Lundy.

Salem Rips Youngstown North 30-14 for 2nd Victory

Beery Scores Three TD's for Quakers

By LYNN BROWNE

Cosach Blaine Morton's Salem Quakers notched their second victory in as many outings Friday as they rolled to an easy, but unimpressive 30-14 win over the visiting Youngstown North Bulldogs.

Nearly 4,000 fans took advantage of the mild weather and jammed into Reilly Stadium to watch the Bulldogs attempt to halt a 36-game winless streak against the Quakers, who posted a 20-6 inaugural victory over Ashland last week.

Senior quarterback Bill Beery and junior tackle George Begalla provided Salem's scoring punch. Beery scored three TD's on 54, 11 and 1-yard jaunts and a pair of extra-points while Begalla scored on a blocked punt, kicked two conversions and banged over for another set of extra-points.

BEGALLA'S TOUCHDOWN came with 4:06 remaining in the first period. The first time the visitors got the ball they picked up one first down and then were forced to punt when the Quaker defense stiffened on the Bulldogs' 36.

North's fullback, Joe Nemkovich, went back to punt but Begalla boomed through, blocked the kick, scooped it up on the first bounce and sprinted into the end zone untouched.

Begalla made it 7-0 in Salem's favor as he left-footed the ball through the uprights for the point-after-touchdown.

The locals got back in the scoring column early in the second period when they took possession on their own 30-yard line, after a Bulldog thrust stalled, and marched 70 yards in 11 plays.

LONG RUNS BY Beery and a nine-yard pass from the versatile signal-caller to halfback Dave Capel highlighted the drive with Beery totting the ball 11 yards around left end for the score. Begalla once again split the uprights and Salem was on the right end of a 14-0 score with 7:21 left in the half.

Coach Marshall Popelba's gridgers got back in the ball game as they took the return kickoff and covered 66 yards in 11 plays with sophomore sensation Robin Borom rolling out from his quarterback position and sprinting around left end for a 14-yard TD. A running play for the extra-points failed.

Beery turned in the longest run of the game as he turned left end and dashed 54 yards for a touchdown the first time the locals got the ball in the second half.

SALEM KICKED off to open the third period and then refused to let the visitors out of their own territory as they squelched a Bulldog march on the North 47-yard stripe.

Nemkovich's punt rolled out of bounds on Salem's 15-yard line and from there the Quakers moved to their own 46 in five ground plays. With 5:42 remaining in the canto, Beery got a key block from Capel, swept left end, turned on his speed and dashed into the end zone.

Begalla's boot for the extra-point failed but an off-side penalty against North gave the locals another chance. Lining up at the fullback slot, Begalla bulldozed across for the points, carrying a North defender with him.

The losers scored their final TD with 4:36 left in the contest.

Minerva Jars Sandy Valley

Haynam Tallies 2 TDs in 28-8 Win

Minerva scored in each of the first three periods to defeat an invading Sandy Valley grid squad 28-8 Friday night. The victory gives the Lions a 2-0 mark this season.

Sandy Valley's Mike Cheek provided the fans with a thrill before they were settled in their seats by snaring the opening kickoff and speeding 75 yards to score. Tom Reed added the extra points on a pass.

Quarterback Vern Wadsworth tallied in the same period for Minerva on a one-yard quarterback sneak. Fullback Frank Haynam was smeared when he attempted to run for the extra points.

The Lions forged ahead 16-8 in the second stanza when Haynam recovered a fumble by Sandy Valley in the end zone, and halfback Larry Simms ran the extra points.

Minerva put the game on ice in the third frame when Haynam tallied his second TD and the extra points, capping a 90-yard drive.

The Lions amassed a total of 203 yards on the ground. They attempted no passes.

Sandy Valley rolled up 167 yards on the ground and 29 through the air. The losers completed three of 11 aerials.

Sandy Valley fumbled six times, and four of the miscues were recovered by Minerva.

The Lions recovered both of their fumbles.

Rootstown Is Handed 20-0 Loss by Leetonia

Victory Second In Row for Bears

Leetonia gained its second victory of the season by defeating the Bears' field.

Leetonia scored quickly in the first quarter. On the second play from scrimmage after the kickoff, fullback Melvin Van Fossan scampered 66 yards for the touchdown.

The score remained at 6-0 until the fourth quarter when quarterback Frank Guerrier passed eight yards to end Heny Nemenz on the fourth down for the TD. The touchdown play, completing a 62-yard drive, came with 10 minutes and 10 seconds remaining on the clock.

The final touchdown was made by halfback Paul Conrad who intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards to paydirt. Richard Oxley added the extra two points with a minute remaining in the game.

Leetonia defeated Beaver Local last Friday, 18-13 and will play Louisville next week in the Bears' first Tri-County game this season.

Columbiana Rips McDonald 48-0

Opening their grid season Friday night, the Columbiana Clippers romped to an easy 48-0 victory over the host McDonald Blue Devils.

On the first play from scrimmage, Clipper halfback Jim Ward scampered 65 yards on an end run for a TD. The extra point kick by Dale Murphy was good.

The Clippers hit pay dirt again in the second quarter when Ward romped 40 yards off left tackle for the tally. The conversion by Murphy failed.

The second touchdown in the quarter was scored on a 40-yard scamper up the middle by halfback Jeff Lindsay. The two-pointer was added when quarterback Rich Parrin hit Duane Spiker in the end zone.

The Clippers continued to dominate the scoring in the third period. Quarterback Parrin tallied on a 12-yard run around left end and then connected with Fred Gosney for the extra-points. A 70-yard run up the middle by fullback Murphy accounted for the final TD in that quarter.

The Clippers added 15 points in the final frame. McDonald, who beat Sebring 8-6 last week, now stands 1-1 for the season.

Beaver Capitalizes On Bulldog Fumbles

Beaver, Pa., capitalizing on three East Palestine fumbles, defeated the Bulldogs 19-0 before 4,000 fans at Beaver Stadium Friday night.

The Bulldogs threatened early in the game after Beaver fumbled on the kickoff. They marched to the one-yard line and attempted a field goal on fourth down. The kick went wide and Beaver recovered the ball on the 20-yard line and marched 80 yards, with fullback Don Morton making the tally. The extra point was scored by halfback Ed Bell.

Both teams were held scoreless through the second and third quarters. Beaver tallied again in the fourth after it recovered a Bulldog fumble on the 43-yard line during a kickoff return. Beaver made the TD on a power play straight up the center by Morton.

The second tally in the fourth by Beaver resulted after the Bulldogs again fumbled on the 25-yard line on a kickoff return. A 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness brought the ball to the 10-yard line. Bell made the final score on a one-yard plunge over center. Two conversion attempts by Bell were wide of the goal post.

The victory makes two straight for the Beavers who defeated Wellsville 13-7 last week.

The Bulldogs now stand 1-1 in independent play after defeating Canfield 20-0 in their season opener. Next week the Bulldogs will meet Sebring in their first Tri-County League contest.

Rose Blasts for 3 TD's In Lisbon Win

Halfback Dave Rose, who scored all three of Lisbon's touchdowns as the Blue Devils walloped Carrollton 20-14 last week, repeated his performance Friday night to pace the Blue Devils to a 22-8 victory over Wellsville on the Bengals' field.

Rose barreled one yard into the end zone in the initial period tallying his first touchdown. The attempt for the extra points failed.

The fleet half scampered nine yards in the second period to pay dirt, and broke loose for a 34-yard sprint shortly afterward to score his third TD.

Craig Pannier and Tim Bucher snared passes from quarterback Larry McPherson for the extra points.

The Bengals came to life in the third period when left end Jack Cataldo intercepted a McPherson aerial and sped 34 yards for a score. Mark Leyda added the two points on a pass play.

The Blue Devils now hold a 2-0 season record. They will face Minerva Friday night at home in a Tri-County League battle.

Wellsville has lost both its encounters. The Bengals were defeated 13-7 by Beaver, Pa., in the opener last week. Wellsville will play host next week to Toronto.

Canton South Bows 14-6 To Louisville

Louisville evened its grid record at 1-1 this season when it defeated an invading Canton South squad 14-6.

Fullback Bob Gadieux scored the Leopards' first tally on a one-yard plunge in the third period, and halfback Bob Bardash added the extra points on a run.

Canton South struck pay dirt in the fourth quarter on a scamper by fullback Frank Dugan who was smeared when he tried to run for the extra points.

A pass from quarterback Al Lawver to Gladioux netted Louisville's other touchdown. Lawver's pass to end Jim Edwards for the extra points was incomplete.

Louisville amassed a total of 183 yards on the ground and 48 in the air. The Leopards completed three of seven passes and made 15 first downs.

Canton rolled up 126 yards on the ground and 22 in the air. The visitors made eight first downs.

Gladioux intercepted two South passes. He snared the first on the Louisville 30 and ran to the South 30 in the third frame. He grabbed the other Canton aerial on the Louisville 10 and was promptly dropped.

The Leopards pounded on the South goal line once in the first period and twice in the second.

Salineville Ekes 6-0 Win Over Newell

Salineville won its first game of the season Friday night, nipping Newell 6-0 on the winner's field.

The only score in the game came during the third quarter when quarterback John Rigby threw a four-yard pass to end Larry Hogue. The touchdown was set up on a blocked kick by John Brown.

Salineville gained a total of 163 yards and Newell, 173 during the contest. Salineville lost 125 yards in penalties and Newell, 80.

Salineville tried only one pass, which it completed for the touchdown. Newell attempted six passes and completed none.

The record for Salineville now is 1-1. It lost its game last Friday to Greenford 14-12.

Salineville will play Springfield Local of Jefferson County there next Friday.

Dodgers Dump Cubs 13-7

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
They caught Maury Wills, but it doesn't look like they'll catch the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Wills swiped his 91st base and was nabbed trying for his 92nd, as the Dodgers trampled the Chicago Cubs, 13-7, Friday.

That moved the National League leading Dodgers three games in front of the San Francisco Giants, who fell to Pittsburgh, 5-1.

It was the 16th occasion in the last eight years that a Giant lineup did not include the name of Willie Mays. The Giants have lost all 16.

The flickering hopes of the defending champion Cincinnati Reds all but died out at the Polo Grounds in New York, amid a swirling rhubarb over Choo Choo Coleman's home run over the right field foul pole in the bottom of the ninth. The Mets won, 10-9, on Coleman's blast, and the sinking Reds fell six games behind the Dodgers. Manager Freddie Hutchinson led the violent screams of "foul."

In other games, the Milwaukee Braves closed to within two games of the first division with a 3-1 decision over Houston, as the St. Louis Cardinals dropped a 2-1 game to the Philadelphia Phils.

The Dodgers jumped off for seven runs in the first inning against the Cubs. Wills walked and stole second as he continued his assault on Ty Cobb's record of 96 set in 1915. Wills was caught in the eighth on a pitchout called by catcher Dick Bertell. It was only the 11th time in 102 tries that he had been apprehended.

Larry Sherry picked up his seventh victory in relief of Johnny Podres, who was bombed out by the Cubs in the fourth. The Chicago defeat, no. 95, was a club record.

Righthander Earl Francis slammed the door on the Mays-less Giants, with a four-hitter. It was the third straight loss for San Francisco. Francis put the game out of reach with a three-run homer in the eighth to cap the Pirate scoring.

Mays was in uniform but did not play. He is recovering from the mysterious fatigue that caused him to faint on the bench Wednesday in Cincinnati.

The Mets' victory staved off for at least one more day their clinging of 10th place, in their first year in the league. One Met defeat or Cub victory will make the New Yorkers the first team in this century to finish 10th. The Kansas City Athletics and Washington Senators tied for ninth last year, in the first expanded season in the American League.

The Mets jumped off to a 7-1 lead, but the Reds stormed back on Vada Pinson's inside the park home run to take the lead. The Mets again went in front, 9-8, but Pinson tripled home the tying run in the top of the ninth. Then came Coleman's disputed blast, which landed on the grandstand roof.

Pinson's homer was the 186th off Met pitching this year, a National League record. The old mark of 185 was set by the 1955 St. Louis Cardinals. The 1956 Athletics set the major mark of 187.

Twins Trip Tribe 11-1

Yanks Pennant Drive Slowed As Red Sox Gain 4-1 Victory

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
They want 'em big at Boston, where skyscrapers like Gene Conley and Frank Sullivan fit the pitching mold. Now they've got Dick Radatz, just a bit shorter, a bit wider, and apparently a bit more effective from that towering perspective.

Uncorking his fireballs from atop the pitchers' mound with overpowering speed, the 6-foot-5 rookie right-hander made another spectacular relief appearance Friday night as he shut out the American League leading New York Yankees for 2 1-3 innings in a 4-1 Red Sox victory.

The triumph slowed the Yankees' drive for their 12th pennant in 14 years, cutting the defending world champions' edge over second-place Minnesota to four. The Twins used home runs by Vic Power and George Banks plus Dick Stigman's seven-hitter for an 11-1 triumph over Cleveland.

The third-place Los Angeles Angels, however, were unable to benefit from the Yankees defeat, losing to Detroit, 3-2, in 10 innings. The Angels remained 5½ games behind with 13 games to play. The Yankees and Twins each have 12 games remaining.

Radatz (9-5), a 24-year-old side-armer who is making a strong bid for rookie of the year honors, came in on relief of starter Bill Monbouquette in the seventh inning with two on and one out. He struck out Mickey Mantle, and after walking Roger Maris, struck out Elston Howard.

In the ninth, Bobby Richardson's double and a walk again put two Yankees on with one out. Radatz then reared back and struck out Mantle before ending it by getting Maris to lift a soft fly for the final out.

Only one other game was played in the American League. The Chicago White Sox blanked Washington, 2-0, as Joel Horlen and Dom Zanni combined for a three-hitter. The Baltimore-Kansas City game was rained out.

Lu Clinton, Russ Nixon and Frank Malone provided the Red Sox with the offense and defense needed to beat the Yankees. Clinton had a double and two singles and scored the other three runs. Nixon drove in two runs with a pair of grounders. Malone singled in a run and made two fine plays as the Yankees left 13 base runners stranded. Ralph Terry (21-11) the AL's only 20-game winner, was the loser.

The Twins jumped on Indian starter Dick Donovan (19-9) in the first inning, getting four runs on two-run homers by Power and Banks. That about wrapped it up as Stigman (10-5) was virtually untouchable after Chuck Essegien tagged him for a homer in the second. After that not one Cleveland runner reached second base. Jim Fregosi's two-run single in the fifth inning gave the Angels a 2-0 lead they held as Dean Chance allowed only one hit over six innings. The Tigers tied it in the seventh when, with the bases loaded, Vic Wertz was hit by a pitch and Larry Osborne walked to force in another run. In the 10th, errors enabled the first two Tigers to reach base, but Chance (13-9) got Al Kaline to hit into a double play. Rocky Colavito then came through with a run-producing single to win it for Terry.

3 Salem Men Lose In Tennis Tourney

Three Salem players were eliminated in the first round of singles play in the Salem Invitational Tennis Tournament held yesterday at the Salem Country Club and Salem Golf Club.

John Strain bowed to B. Fuller of Akron 6-4, 6-1; Ray Rogers lost to John Garver of Youngstown 6-0, 6-1; and Bruce Gordon was defeated by Karl Fleischer of Elwood City 6-1, 1-6, 6-0.

Singles action resumed today at 10 a.m. with the first round of doubles slated to get underway promptly at 2 p.m. Finals will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Salem Golf Club.

I understand they are picking up people at the little red jewel again. To have it there rather than a school guard is questionable, but it is well marked now and there is really no excuse for going through it, especially if it is going to cost you a bunch of money.

It's hard to believe that things like this can go on in free America but I guess maybe it will help us appreciate other parts of the country more.
